If it's shopping, then the much extended and improved Westgate Centre might be the first choice for the January Sales or maybe Queen Street, Cornmarket Street and the covered market may attract.

If it's museums, then there is the world-famous Ashmolean, a smaller version of the British Museum. A short walk away is the Natural History Museum, with a huge collection of zoological and geological items. Just next door is The Pitt Rivers Museum with exhibits from all parts of the world. Check out their websites for more details of their collections. Whatever your choice there are plenty of restaurants, cafes and coffee shops for refreshment stops.
